SOFTWARE DEVELOPER · MUSICIAN

I'm a creative professional with a background as a singer/songwriter and music producer, with music featured on platforms such as Netflix and iHeart Radio. In October, I completed a 12-week software development bootcamp, and I am now focused on transitioning into a full-time career in software development. My goal is to develop user-friendly web applications while expanding my expertise in both front-end and back-end technologies.
